ARE SEEKING INFORMATION

Board of Trade Asks People of Town to Tell if they Have Any More Room. Are Requested to Name Price and Stick to it.

People of Gettysburg who intend to take boarders and lodgers at the time of the Fiftieth Anniversary are asked to give their attention to a number of requests from the local Board of Trade.

An impression has become generally circulated throughout the country that all accommodations here have already been engaged. This, say the members of the Gettysburg organization, is not true, and much room yet remains which has not been taken. They wish to correct the rumor which is being spread broadcast but must have some facts at hand before they will attempt to make such correction.

Several months ago a list of those willing to take people in July was compiled, giving rates asked and capacity. Since then many have let out their rooms so that this list must be corrected. Others have decided to raise their rates and correction in this respect is also necessary. People desiring to give strangers accommodations are accordingly requested to communicate at once with R. C. Miller, secretary, giving the above information. A special request is made that Gettysburg people state definitely the prices they expect to ask and then adhere to such prices.

The "National Tribune" a paper claiming 100,000 circulation among Grand Army veterans prints the following letter and answer:

"Editor National Tribune: I wish you would tell us thru your paper what accommodations can be had at Gettysburg during the celebration for the wives and families of veterans. I have a daughter who wishes to go with me.—J. G. Hafamon, 30th N. J., Rocky Hill, N. J."

"In answer to this comrade we will say for the information of all that contemplate going to Gettysburg that we do not think it wise for comrades to take any members of their families. It is said that there will be abundant accommodations 'for all veterans who are identified,' as from the States, but that those who are not and those who come with them will be unlikely to find any adequate accommodation. It must be remembered that Gettysburg is not a large town, having but 4,000 inhabitants, and only comfortable accommodations for that many. It would appear that almost everything in the way of public accommodations attainable has been taken up months ago. Everything will be crowded, and it will be exceedingly difficult, if not impossible, for women and children to find any place at which to stay. In all likelihood there will be great difficulty in men who do not obtain credentials from their States or otherwise to get food or lodging. If anyone knowing these facts is determined to go and take his family with him, he had better locate them in one of the surrounding towns, York, Hagerstown, Chambersburg or Harrisburg, and go to the battlefield from there in the morning and back in the evening. We have not heard of any railroad arrangements being made to facilitate this, but doubtless there will be.—Editor National Tribune."

COLLISION

Reading Freight Collides with Cars Projecting on Track.

Extra Reading freight, drawn by engine 593, collided with several cars just outside the yard limits this morning. The Reading trainmen blame a Western Maryland crew with trying to put too many cars on the siding, causing several to be on the main track. A wrecking crew cleared the wreck which consisted of the engine and three cars. No one was hurt.

WOULD CHANGE COUNTY SYSTEM

New Law would Revolutionize Entire Road System in Adams County. Put Supervisors under Direction of State Highway Men.

The manner in which the roads in Adams County have been cared for and maintained in the past will be completely changed if a bill in the House of Representatives becomes a law.

By the provisions of this act the supervisors of each county will meet and choose a county superintendent of roads in exactly the same manner as school directors choose their county superintendents of schools. The superintendent of roads will be instructed by the State Highway Department how to direct and advise the township supervisors in their road work. This has been the weak point in the past. The township man has often been inefficient, and it is hoped under this new plan to so aid him in his work as to obtain more intelligent effort and more permanent results.

The vital point in the bill is State aid to the townships, and this feature is not new, but was the purpose of the first "Jones dirt road act." The actual money, however, has not been fully appropriated and the State has broken faith with the townships. At present there is due the various townships of the State over $3,000,000.

The objection, heretofore, on the part of Governor Tener and other officials has been that the State did not have proper supervision of the money given by the Commonwealth. This new act removes this objection by establishing in the State Highway Department a bureau of township roads, with a Deputy Highway Commissioner at its head, and this bureau will devote its whole attention to the more than 80,000 miles of township roads in the State.

The State aids the township to the extent of 50 per cent. not to exceed $20 per mile, this feature being the same as heretofore.

This system is needed in Pennsylvania to round out her big road policy. The State under the Sproul bill takes over and constructs these 8,800 miles of main highways. Under the new measure it would aid townships in the maintenance of the remaining 80,000 miles of roads, which the people everywhere make daily use of.

WAS DIVORCED

Man Would Have Married Had He Been Informed.

Clayton Marthey filed a suit at Frederick for an absolute divorce from his wife, Anna Marthey, of Hagerstown. A summons was sent to the Sheriff of Washington county notifying Mrs. Marthey of the suit. The summons was returned Tuesday accompanied by a copy of her divorce which she obtained more than a year ago in the Washington County Court. She had married again in the meantime. The couple were married in Hagerstown in 1897 and soon afterward Mrs. Marthey left her husband. They had seen each other only once in 15 years, and the woman secured a divorce on the ground of abandonment. Marthey, however, was ignorant of the proceedings, and, desiring to marry again, instituted suit on the same plea. When notified that his wife got ahead of him he said that had he known it he would have married again a year ago.

CAUGHT IN SMOKE

York Springs People Caught in Dense Smoke of Forest Fire.

Sunday afternoon a fire broke out on Trent's Hill above Mt. Holly Springs and swept over several hundred acres before being extinguished on Monday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Q. W. Hershey, of York Springs, had an unpleasant experience in crossing the mountain while the flames were sweeping over the hill. They had driven over to Mt. Holly and when returning home found the fire sweeping along the turnpike. The intense smoke caused them to almost strangle and Mr. Hershey was compelled to get out of the buggy and lead the horse they were driving for some distance as they were unable to see the road.

ADVERTISING GETTYSBURG

Western Maryland Issues Booklet Advertising Gettysburg. Makes Bid for Travel to this Place during the Coming Summer.

Officials of the passenger department of the Western Maryland Railway Company have just issued a new pamphlet containing highly interesting facts about Gettysburg, which is easily the most pretentious booklet ever gotten out by the railroad in connection with the historic battle-ground. The little book is splendidly illustrated, and contains important facts towards determining the final outcome of the strife between the North and the South.

The cover of the pamphlet is unique, one scene depicting the raging conflict between the two opposing armies, while the picture below shows a Confederate and Federal soldier sitting together, enjoying peace and tranquility under the government of a united country, these two views faithfully illustrating the title of the booklet, Gettysburg, Past and Present.

The surveyors in charge of the surveys for the proposed Western Maryland low-grade line from Hagerstown to a point north of Chambersburg, are making on absolutely complete survey for the line, taking the most minute data, and the thoroughness of the work which they are doing shows the new line is being seriously considered by the interests back of the present Western Maryland.

The new Western Maryland line is regarded by engineers as being almost ideal in its gradients and curves, with but two curves in the line between Greencastle and Chambersburg and but three curves between Hagerstown and its junction with the present tracks, while the gradients are such that a single locomotive will be able to handle more than double the tonnage which it now requires two engines to haul over the Altenwald Cut-off.

Colonel Addresses Great Audience on "Justice."

A RIOT OF ENTHUSIASM

Puts His O. K. on Proposed Laws Before Pennsylvania Legislature and Indorses Minimum Wage For Women and Children.

Philadelphia, March 14.—A cheering, hero worshipping audience of men and women who packed the Metropolitan Opera House to its capacity paid homage to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and to the political organization of which he is the leader—the Progressive party.

Enthusiasm, bottled up since election, ran riot through the gathering and staid and dignified men got up and cheered and waved their hats, while even more dignified ladies clapped their hands and waved handkerchiefs from every part of the auditorium.

Colonel Roosevelt's address was on the topic "Social and Industrial Justice from an Educational Viewpoint." His appearance on the platform was the signal for cheers and there were more cheers when he was introduced by Dean William Draper Lewis, of the University of Pennsylvania law school, who acted as chairman of the meeting. And his address was continually interrupted by cheering as one point after another was driven home with the forceful tones and plain, homely words of the speaker.

The colonel was followed by Rev. George L. Perine, of Boston, who has been active in the organization of Progressive sentiment throughout New England and the country.

The following are some of the extracts of Colonel Roosevelt's speech: "Our party is not in power; it is not in office; but it is our duty to formulate public opinion and prepare it so that it shall insist on action along the lines we indicate. The organization of the Progressive service has no meaning for old line politicians. It is not on a basis of office holding. It is on a basis of measures."

"One vital side of honesty is making performance square with promise. We hold that not one line should be put into any platform that it is not intended to translate into actual law when the opportunity arises. There is not a proposal in the Progressive platform enunciated last August that we are not trying to have adopted in state and in nation as far as we have the power."

"I wish to congratulate you men in Pennsylvania upon the fight the Progressive party is making in the legislature to achieve its purpose and thereby justify its existence. All the proposed laws are good; the primary law, for instance, and the corrupt practices act. But peculiar importance attaches to the three acts proposed for regulating child labor, for regulating the employment of women and for creating a minimum wage for both women and children. The last act is a direct blow at the evils of the sweatshop. The under-payment of the wage earners is one of the worst evils of our present industrial system, and it is not only an evil in itself, but it is at the bottom of the sweatshop problem."

"We hold that the right type of business man is the man who makes money by serving others, and if the service is great we wish the reward to be great."

"We do not intend to destroy big business; where it is useful to the people we intend to keep it, but we intend to supervise and control it so that we can be sure that it will be useful."

"I do not wish to take away the power of the courts to pass on the constitutionality of laws, but where they really amend the constitution—for that is in fact exactly and precisely what they do—we wish to give to the people who made the constitution and to whom the constitution belongs, the right to say whether or not this amendment, inserted by an irresponsible body, shall stand."

All Elements of Democracy to Get Patronage.

SEEKS LAFOLLETTE'S AID

Wilson to Confer With Wisconsin Senator to Line Up Progressive Votes For Tariff Fight.

Washington, March 14.—The question of patronage in several Democratic states, which has brought scores of Democrats to the White House to push the claims of rival candidates, has been compromised by a plan worked out by two of President Wilson's close advisers.

According to the plan both the "organization" and "anti-organization" men will receive recognition, and an attempt will be made to satisfy all.

Postmaster General Burleson and William F. McCombs, chairman of the national committee, conferred over patronage, and it is believed their plan for compromise is acceptable to the White House.

Another development in the scramble for patronage is that plums will be served to the "Progressive" Republicans in the effort to line them up with the Democrats in the revision of the tariff. The hope of Democratic leaders that they may swing many "Progressive" Republican votes in the senate in the tariff fight has the hearty approval of the president.

Mr. Wilson expects to have a conference with Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, within a few days and conferences with other "Progressives" will follow. The first conference with LaFollette will be regarding patronage. The president expects to discuss all Wisconsin appointments with him. It will be the first visit of Senator LaFollette to the White House in several years, for he was a bitter foe of Mr. Taft.

Other "Progressive" Republican senators will be consulted about appointments in their states. Conferences about appointments are likely to lead to discussion of legislative questions where Mr. Wilson thinks the Democrats and the "Progressives" can stand together.

John Skelton Williams, a Richmond, Va., banker, was named to become assistant secretary of the treasury.

Robert W. Wooley, also of Virginia, has been selected as another assistant secretary of the treasury and will succeed Sherman Allen in charge of the miscellaneous bureaus of the treasury, including the revenue cutter service, public health service, life saving service and the selection of sites for public buildings.

William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and pre-convention manager of the candidacy of President Wilson, told the president that he preferred not to accept the post of ambassador to France, that he might remain in private life and might retain his place at the head of the national committee.

President Wilson urged Mr. McCombs not to decline the offer definitely until he had considered it further. Mr. McCombs agreed to this.

Mr. McCombs told the president that his preference from the first had been not to accept public office. The president had told him that he was earnestly desirous of having him accept a foreign post, inasmuch as he had refused to become a member of the cabinet.

The president asked Mr. McCombs to hold his mind open at least until April 1. Mr. McCombs said later to inquirers he was so strongly urged by the president that he felt it his duty to give the question more serious and careful consideration.

LIPTON MAY NOT CHALLENGE AGAIN

Surprised Over Action of New York Yacht Club.

SAYS HIS OFFER WAS FAIR

Sir Thomas Cannot Understand the Grounds For Non-Acceptance and Criticizes Club.

London, March 14.—Sir Thomas Lipton, challenger for the America's cup, expressed the greatest surprise when informed that the New York Yacht Club had declined his challenge because it did not comply with the conditions of the deed of gift.

Neither Sir Thomas nor the Royal Ulster Yacht Club has yet been officially notified of the rejection of the challenge.

Sir Thomas said there was little likelihood that he would modify his challenge or that he would race with a ninety-footer. A definite decision on this point, he said, would be delayed until the official notification that his challenge had been rejected reached him.

Sir Thomas, of course, fully recognizes the right of the New York Yacht Club to decline his challenge because of the stipulation that the defending yacht must be of the same size as the challenger. Nevertheless he is greatly disappointed, as he fully expected that the challenge would be accepted. He said:

"It is the duty of the challenger for the America's cup to state the size of the boat with which he intends to race, as well as name the days on which the races are to take place. In this I conformed entirely with the conditions of the deed of gift.

"The size of seventy-five feet on the waterline which I stipulated is larger than that of any cutter of that type on this side of the Atlantic and as big as any in America with the exception of the Reliance. The race would have been a good one while there would have been no race at all if the defender were a ninety-foot yacht racing against my seventy-five-footer. I therefore suggested that both should be seventy-five feet on the waterline.

"I wanted no favors and made what I considered a fair sporting offer. When I challenged six years ago under the universal rule which governs all yacht racing in America my challenge was declined because it did not comply with the conditions of the deed of gift and legally the New York Yacht Club had the right to do so.

"Now when I challenge according to the deed of gift my challenge is declined because I will not allow a ninety-foot yacht to race against my seventy-five-footer."

It is understood that Charles C. Allom, the owner of the yacht Istria, is a prospective challenger for the America's cup. He made some attempt last year to organize a syndicate to build a challenger. Mr. Allom is at present in the United States.

BEHEADED BY MINE CARS

Driver Was "Sliding a Rail" When His Foot Caught.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 14.—Leroy Wolfe, eighteen years old, was beheaded in the No. 1 shaft of the Kingston Coal company while at work as a mule driver.

A loaded trip of cars passed over his neck and his head fell on the outside of the rails as his body rested between the tracks.

Wolfe was "sliding a rail." One foot rested on the spreader of the mule's harness and the other foot he slid along the track. His foot caught in a joint of the rails and he was thrown forward, landing between the rails. The trip was soon upon him and he was unable to escape.

FIRE SWEEPS STEAMER

German Cruiser Scorched and Philadelphia Piers Threatened.

Philadelphia, March 14.—The Merchants' and Mariners' steamship Persian was almost completely destroyed, the German cruiser Bremen was badly scorched and a section of the Delaware river waterfront was threatened with destruction by a fire which started on the Persian.

Only quick action by two fireboats, several tugs and a dozen engine companies prevented a serious conflagration. The afterdeck of the Persian were burned to the steel hull and she had settled firmly in the mud. The loss is placed at $200,000.

SERB TRANSPORTS SHELLED

Fired on by Unidentified Vessel, Said to Be Austrian Vessel.

Cettigne, Montenegro, March 14.—News reached here that four Serbian transports loaded with troops were shelled with shells fired by an unidentified war vessel.

Accounts of the engagement from two different sources declare that the attacking vessel flew the Austro-Hungarian flag. This was doubted in official circles, where it is believed the vessel was the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh.

One report doubts the war vessel was the Hamidieh and says that the cruiser resembled a vessel of the Austrian Kaiser class.

Feeling against Austria has been big in Cettigne since Tuesday, when the Austrian minister to Serbia announced that his government objected to Serbian troops assisting in the siege of Scutari.

The transports were conveying strong detachments of Serbian troops to assist the Montenegrins in their siege of the fortress of Scutari. The attack on the four boats occurred off San Giovanni di Medua.

Two of the transports were set on fire. The number of killed and injured has not been reported.

REFUSE TO CHANGE NAME OF DUPONT'S SON

Delaware House Defeats Measure by Vote of 15 to 17.

Dover, Del., March 14.—For the second time Alfred I. Dupont, multimillionaire powder magnate, failed to have the name of his son by his first wife changed.

The house defeated his bill to have the name of Alfred Victor Dupont changed to Dorsey Cazenove Dupont by a vote of 15 yeas and 17 nays.

This action of the house was taken after the bill had been called out of Representative Mooney's miscellaneous committee by petition, he having refused to report it.

This bill has caused a great stir throughout the state for several weeks and revived talk of the many family troubles of the Duponts. Since Mr. Dupont divorced his first wife and married a daughter of Federal Judge Edward G. Bradford, of Wilmington, the boy whose name he desires to have changed has lived with his mother and is now attending a preparatory school in Massachusetts.

His mother opposed the bill, and the boy, who is thirteen years of age, wrote to the committee objecting to his name being changed. The name mentioned in the bill is a family name of Mrs. Dupont, and when he appeared before the committee some time ago Mr. Dupont said he only suggested this name out of courtesy to his former wife and he did not insist on that particular change.

His explanation for desiring to have the name of his son changed was that he feared the boy may disgrace his name and that it was not his purpose to disown the child.

TORTURED WIFE FOR CASH

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 14.—Because his wife, who is ill, refused to give him money, Lawrence Tobin dragged her from bed and held her feet over a fire.

When again she refused he held her head over the flames, burning her hair. Tobin was ordered to pay a fine of $25, or serve sixty days in jail.

Mine Cave-in Buries Him.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 14.—James Clarke, a miner in the Butler colliery of the Erie company, "robbing" mine pillars caused an extensive cave-in, which extended to the surface in Pittston township and buried him beneath thousands of tons of roof.

I AM THE DOMESTIC VACUUM CLEANER

With the Adjustable Brush

Can you imagine it? Just think of a brush on a good Vacuum Cleaner; a brush that will act just the same as a Carpet Sweeper, one that you can with the aid of the toe of your shoe raise or lower just when you need it to sweep strings, threads, lint, hairpins, or any other sweepings that may be found in your home. The brush is solidly fixed to the rear of the Vacuum Cleaner and revolves only when it is thrown into gear. Then the brush is made to revolve and sweeps things into pans for catching them (strings, lint, etc., not dust—the front nozzle gets the dust). Then when you get the sweepings in that particular part of the rug you simply, with the toe of the shoe, trip the adjustable bar and the brush spool is relieved from the main driving wheel that drives the bellows of the cleaner, and is raised up from the rug one inch. You do not have to go looking up any parts of this new, improved cleaner, as you do with other cleaners when you wish to use them. All parts are compactly arranged, simple, durable, full of merit, useful and needful to do a DUSTLESS OPERATION. It is the only vacuum cleaner in the world so fitted. This vacuum cleaner also has other improvements that you will find on no other cleaner, to make it efficient and harmless to your rugs. It has an adjustable roller underneath the front of the cleaner, so it can be raised and lowered just to suit the nap on the rugs, and will take the pressure from off the nozzle, which will create a friction and wear away rugs before you know it should you not have this roller on your cleaner to keep the nozzle from dragging. You can lower the front nozzle all the way down to the rugs when you wish to do heavy cleaning, and then raise it for lighter work.

We Want Live Dealers, Agents and Canvassers

- A—Dust nozzle.
- B—Brush attachment.
- C—Rubber protector for adjusting bar.
- D—Distended steel cleat for holding adjustable bar.
- E—Adjusting slot for raising and lowering brush carriage.
- F—Adjustable slot bar for placing the spool close to wheels if needed.
- G—Catch for lowering pans to dump the strings, ravelings, etc. (not dust—the front nozzle gets and deposits the dust into the dust bag.)
- H—Pressed steel wheel driving 3 powerful bellows.
- I—Steel cleat for holding handle perpendicular with such grip that when you wish to remove cleaner from one place to another it evenly balances it.

The "Windsor" Suit - - - $25.00

Another triumph of Wooltex tailoring

The SUIT illustrated is almost "mannish" in its cut, the cut-away effect being very slight and approaching the style of a man's sack coat. But few men can have the perfect lines and exquisite fit for the price at which this suit can be had by women.

LIKE ALL PLAIN-TAILORED GARMENTS IT MUST RELY FOR ITS EFFECT ON ITS LINES, AND HERE THE WOOLTEX TAILORING IS SHOWN AT ITS BEST.

The picture reveals this better than words can.

A top pocket and a double row of buttons on back and sleeves give a dainty touch of relief. The skirt has a distinct novelty in the back panel which appears to be buttoned on at the top over a belt of self material, the real fastening being with large buttons on the side. A wide plait runs down the side and extra plaits at bottom give ample foot room.

A suit of which the wearer will never weary and which she will find hard to wear out. Made in a variety of staple cloths and in several novelty weaves. The price for almost all of these is—$25.00.

Come and see it.
